PIMLICO'S NEWCOMERS.

Baltimore's Old Track Will Attract Stables Never There Before.

Baltimore, Oct. 27 .- Horses have been pian. arriving in large numbers at the Pimlico track for the last few days, and before the meeting begins Thursday all the stalls with be filled. Owners who have never before raced at Pimlico will take! part in the meeting this fall. This shows how the popularity of the Baltimere course has grown since the Maryland Jockey Club was reorganized a few years ago. The sport is now on a substantial basis and the attendance is growing each year, It was because of the liberal patronage and the manifest inadequacy of the Pimlico track that the club officials sought a place to build a new course. Races for amateur riders and steeplechasing will be features of the two weeks' session. A cross-country race will be on the programme each day, and there will be several events for the gentlemen jockeys, many of whom will come over from the United Hunts' meet. The officials of the meeting will be the ame who conducted affairs last spring, in the stewards' stand will be Samuel Ross, of Washington; H. J. Morris, representing the Jockey Club, and Judge Murphy. Starter Dade will be at the barrier to send the runners away, and Frank J. Pryan and Sacratary Rices will Frank J. Bryan and Secretary Riggs will place them at the finish. John Boden will be racing secretary and cierk of the course, and Judge Murphy will handicap
